Dear David,

Publication of the Intergovernmental Relations Annual Transparency Report: 1 January - 31 December 2023

As the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State, I am pleased to provide you with a copy of the fourth Annual Transparency Report on intergovernmental relations (IGR).

Today, the Government published the third Annual Transparency Report of our engagement with the devolved administrations on GOV.UK. This report has been laid as a Command Paper in both Houses. The Government has also published the fourth Quarterly Transparency Report Dashboard for 2023, also on GOV.UK.

The Annual Report follows on from each of the Quarterly Dashboards published on GOV.UK throughout the year. The Annual Report shows that we are a Union who share similar challenges. This Report covers a period where we have seen once in generation events and gives an insight into the extensive engagement between the UK Government and the devolved administrations between 1 January to 31 December 2023. During this reporting period the administrations worked together on a number of areas, not least in organising the Coronation of Their Majesties King Charles III and Queen Camilla, the unlocking of two Green Freeports in Scotland and two Freeports in Wales, and the successful joint UK and Ireland bid to host the UEFA European Championships in 2028. The Report highlights that our collective strength is why we are able to face and tackle big changes and challenges.

The report is part of the Government's ongoing commitment to transparency of intergovernmental relations to Parliament and the public. The Government will continue with publications to demonstrate transparency in intergovernmental relations.

Yours ever,

Felicity Buchan MP
Minister for Housing and Homelessness
