Dear Lord Bridges,

Today, the government is making four announcements as part of its Tax Administration and Maintenance Day 2024.

At Spring Budget, the government announced a range of reforms to support the ambition for a tax system that is simple, fair, and supports growth. The government also committed at Spring Budget to launch a consultation on the tax impacts of recent High Court rulings on the private hire vehicle sector and provide an update on the recent consultation on tackling non-compliance in the umbrella company market. Today the government delivers on these promises, demonstrating its commitment to support businesses and consumers, protecting workers and ensuring fair competition.

The government is also announcing two further technical tax policy proposals that make the tax system fairer and tackle non-compliance.

The list of publications and announcements can be found at www.gov.uk/government/publications/summary-of-tax-administration-and-maintenance-spring-2024

Yours sincerely,
