Dear Mr Brine,

Thank you for inviting NICE to give oral evidence to the health and social care committee on 8 May as part of the Future Cancer inquiry.

It was helpful to discuss important issues around Enhertu and next steps, and I am now writing to set out the actions NICE is taking.

We are issuing a short exceptional pause to the publication of our final guidance on this topic. The aim is to allow all parties to reach a rapid commercial solution that enables patient access to this treatment.

NICE remains committed to ensuring we get the best care to patients while ensuring value for the taxpayer.

If you have any questions or would like any further information, please let us know.

Yours sincerely,

Helen Knight
Director of Medicines Evaluation
