

Summary of Committee's meeting on 15 October 2024

The Committee agreed to hold a call for views on what topics it should prioritise to inform its future programme. External and internal stakeholders would be able to submit their ideas about reforms to House of Commons procedures, standards, and working practices.

Everyone would be able to send written submissions via the Committee's website and there would be additional ways of internal stakeholders to contribute. The deadline for submitting views would be 16 December at 3pm.

The Committee also received a private briefing from Daniel Greenberg, the Parliamentary Commissioner for Standards, about the issue of outside interests and employment for MPs.
