Dear Neil,

In December 2024, in response to the independent investigation into the Capture accounting software, the Department for Business and Trade said:

“The Post Office has indicated that it holds further information on convictions and prosecutions during 1991 to 1999 and are carrying out a thorough review of these records”.

As such, I would be grateful if you could provide answers to the following questions:

- 1) Has the Post Office completed a review of the information it holds on convictions and prosecutions that may relate to Capture?
- 2) When will the Post Office fully disclose this information?

I would be grateful for a response to this letter by 3 July.

Chair of the Business and Trade Committee
