

Treasury Committee

Rebecca Stimson
Director of Public Policy
Meta (UK)
By e-mail

Monday, 7 July 2025

Compliance with Financial Conduct Authority takedown requests

Dear Ms Stimson

Thank you for your letter we received on Friday 27 June. We note you did not respond to our data requests set out in the letter, which I have listed as an annex to this letter. Given this is the second time I've requested this information, I trust that this time it will be completed and returned in the requested format within the timeframe.

In your letter, you wrote that "Unfortunately during the FCAs "week of action" in 2024 there was an isolated incident which resulted in a delay in actioning a small number of reports from the FCA."

1. Can you set out how many FCA reports were affected by this isolated incident?

In your letter you also wrote that "From January of 2024 to April of 2025 reports received from the FCA (including those which experienced a delay) had a median turnaround time of less than 3 days."

2. Can you set out how many reports you received from the FCA during that period, and what the mean turnaround time in days was?

In line with the Committee's usual practice, I will be placing this letter and your response in the public domain. I would be grateful for a reply by 11 July 2025.

Yours sincerely

Dame Meg Hillier MP
Chair of the Treasury Committee

Treasury Committee

Annex - 3 June 2025 data requests from Treasury Committee which were not answered

2. Set out the total number of days in aggregate that Meta have allowed to elapse in which posts that the FCA requested to be taken down have remained online?

3. Fill in the following table:

Number of weeks between takedown request and post being taken down	Number of takedown requests
1 week
2 weeks
3 weeks
4 weeks
5 weeks
6 weeks
More than 6 weeks	