Dear Lord Strathclyde,

Grenfell Tower Memorial (Expenditure) Bill

Thank you for bringing to our attention the oversight in the contents of the Explanatory Notes of the Grenfell Tower Memorial (Expenditure) Bill.

I am aware that the Cabinet Office's Guide to Making Legislation does make clear that a justification needs to be provided for bills with fast-tracked scheduling. My officials will therefore update the Bill's Explanatory Notes accordingly. The updated Explanatory Notes will be published promptly after Royal Assent.

This fast-tracking does not apply to the Bill's passage through the House of Lords, which follows the usual procedure for money bills.

Yours ever,

BARONESS TAYLOR OF STEVENAGE
Parliamentary Under-Secretary of State for Housing and Local Government
