Dear Lord Burnett,

I am sending this letter following the finding, by the House of Commons Committee on Standards, that in writing to Dame Kathryn Thirlwall and Dame Victoria Sharp on 19 November 2020 and to you and Mrs Justice Whipple on 22 November 2020, I breached the Code of Conduct for Members.

I accept that it was wrong to send this correspondence. I apologise to you and to your judicial colleagues for so doing and regret the mistake that I made in signing these letters.

I shall ensure that all future communications that I shall find it necessary to initiate in respect of judicial proceedings will be through the channels provided by the courts and that any policy issues relating to the judiciary will be raised in the appropriate manner directly with the Lord Chancellor.

Yours sincerely,

Natalie Elphicke.
