March 2022

Dear Wendy,

Thank you for your recent letter regarding the Government's proposed reforms of rail fares and ticketing and their impact on consumers.

We launched an inquiry into public transport in towns and cities in January. The inquiry will consider changing demand for public transport, innovation and technological developments, multi-modal connectivity, and the role of local authorities in delivering transport solutions. We are currently taking evidence and plan to publish our report later this year. We look forward to receiving evidence from your department on this important area of public interest.

With warm regards

Lucy Neville-Rolfe
